An Integrative Approach To Counseling: Bridging Chinese Thought, Evolutionary Theory, And Stress Management (Multicultural Aspects Of Counseling And Psychotherapy)

Synopsis

An Integrative Approach to Counseling: Bridging Chinese Thought, Evolutionary Theory, and Stress Management offers a global and integrative approach to counseling that incorporates multiple concepts and techniques from both eastern and western perspectives. The book identifies commonalities rather than the differences between them. The book also compares and contrasts the underlying cultural assumptions of western counseling with those of the Chinese perspectives of Confucianism, Daoism, and Buddhism, relative to integrating and applying a more global approach to helping individuals functionally adapt to challenges in their environments. The book will be used by faculty and students in those advanced undergraduate and graduate courses in psychology, counseling, or social work that cover such areas as introduction to counseling, counseling skills and techniques, counseling theories, multi-cultural awareness and counseling, and stress management.

Robert Santee is a Full Professor of Psychology at Chaminade University of Honolulu, in Hawaii, where he is the Dean of Behavioral Sciences, the Director of the Masters of Science in Counseling Psychology Program, the Coordinator for the undergraduate Psychology program and the University Assessment Facilitator. He has been employed full-time at Chaminade University for 12 years. Dr. Santee has a PhD in Philosophy (general focus in Asian Philosophy, specific focus in Chinese Philosophy and a specialization in Daoism), a PhD in Educational Psychology (focus in assessment and psychometrics), a Masters in Counseling and Guidance (Community Counseling), a Masters in Philosophy (specialization in Daoism), and a Masters in Educational Foundations (focus on examining teaching methods of Kendo). Dr. Santee is a Nationally Certified Counselor. Dr. Santee has developed and teaches Daoist Psychology, Buddhist Psychology, Psychology of T'aoism (Tai Chi Ch'uan), Health and Stress Psychology, and Evolutionary Psychology in the undergraduate psychology department. He also has developed and teaches Introduction to Chinese Thought, Taoism (Daoism) and Confucianism for the religion department. At the graduate level, he teaches a class in Health, Stress Management and Counseling and a class in Cross-Cultural Counseling. Tai Ji Quan (Tai Chi Ch'uan), and Qi Gong (Chi Kung) are incorporated in both graduate classes, all three religion classes, and three of the undergraduate classes. His examination of the relationship between Western counseling, Chinese thought, evolutionary theory/psychology, the stress response and stress management has resulted in writing and presenting papers at conferences in Taipei (Taiwan), Tiantai (China), Chengdu (China), and Honolulu, Hawaii. His exploration of the relationship between Western Counseling and Chinese thought has been guided by his training in Chinese martial arts. He is a student, practitioner, and teacher of Tai Ji Quan (Tai Chi Ch'uan), and Qi Gong (Chi Kung). He is also a practitioner and student of Ba Gua Zhang (Pa Kua Chang). Dr. Santee has worked full-time (16 years) as an operating room technician assisting in surgery and full-time (5 years) as a Psychological Examiner administering IQ, Achievement, and Personality tests.

My professor wrote this and we used it for class. He is amazingly knowledgeable in this area. I enjoyed the reading and his classes. I would definitely recommend for anyone interested in learning Eastern thought.

Well written and a brilliant unorthodox approach to modern day psychology.

"I imagine future thinkers in whom European-American indefatigability is combined with the hundredfold inherited contemplativeness of the Asians: such a combination will bring the riddle of the world to a solution. In the meantime the reflective free spirits have their mission: they are to remove all barriers that stand in the way of a coalescence of human beings." (Friedrich Nietzsche, 1876 from the book Nietzsche and Asian Thought by Graham Parkes.) It took over 100 years

Friedrich, but the book was worth waiting for! Thank you professor Santee for making the "Bridge" so easy to cross. I felt like I was eavesdropping on a conversation between Eastern and Western thinkers.
