Rod Powers is a recognized expert in all U.S. military matters. He also serves as military guide for About.com. Jennifer Lawler developed the curriculum and taught test-preparation classes for the ACT and SAT standardized college admissions examinations.

Perfect Everything!!!!!!!

Just what the doctor ordered.

Good book

My son took a year off after graduating high school. Even though math was never his strongest subject, he was really having problems passing the ASVAB. We tried many different study tactics but still no success. After failing the practice exam for the fourth time,, I decided to get this book for him. After studying this book, he went back and not only passed the practice exam with flying colors, he scored so high on the real ASVAB, he was able to choose the branch and job he wanted opposed to barely passing and having to take whatever they gave him. I know this book made all the difference in the world. Now I am the proud parent of a sailor..

It's just what my neiphew wanted - thanks

My Grandson is finding his ASVAB manual very helpful in preparing for the test.

PERFECT

Excellent.
