Featuring the world's most notable, modern-day jewelry designers, The Sourcebook of Contemporary Jewelry Design is filled with more than 1300 photographs and illustrations that showcase each artist's unique and diverse style. This large-scale, beautifully designed anthology offers readers an in-depth look at established and emerging international designers, providing stunning visual examples of their jewelry, along with detailed explanations that reveal the inspiration behind their work. From architectural rings and paper-made bracelets, to smart necklaces and transformable earrings, this book is a must have for anyone interested in jewelry and design.

Macarena San Martín studied design at the Catholic University of Chile, her birthplace. Before finishing her studies, she took part in a student exchange in Italy, where her experience and introduction to the world of design was an incentive for her to return to Europe and further her studies. Her destination this time was Barcelona, where she took a post-graduate course in Fashion Styling at BAU. She soon became involved in the world of publishing, thus combining all of her interests—design, fashion, and the written word.

Oh what an unexpectedly EXCELLENT book! Beware, it's LARGE. Like coffee-table size and width. Which is marvelous, because this is chock full of fantastic photos of mostly European artists. Brief descriptions / history about the artists, and web sites provided for more drool-worthy perusing. One of the best inspirational and fun additions to my jewelry book library. Highly recommend (in case that wasn't clear). :)

Excellent book

I felt like it was more in the vein of Jewlery as form over function. Lots of mixed media and unique forms. I was looking for inspiration related to metal smithing with silver and gold.

Beautiful book!

have purchased others that i liked much better great value for the buck I will definitely order again if need be in the future. Definitely worth every penny. Great product. Works well so far. With the expectation of the same, and even good-looking than online. works like a charm, very fast! Seems to be a high quality one!!
