Nancy B. Carlson, OD, FAAO (Cambridge, MA) is Emeritus Professor of Optometry at the New England College of Optometry in Boston, Massachusetts. Daniel Kurtz, OD, PhD, FAAO (Pomona, CA) is Associate Dean of Academic Affairs and Professor of Optometry in the College of Optometry

at Western University of Health Sciences, Pomona, California.

I'm an optometry student and this textbook has helped me tons studying and just refreshing my brain with material after class. I'd recommend this as a supplement to any optometry student.

it was unbelievable! the pictures were already colored compared to the 3rd edition. very helpful for my class. makes it easier to understand for my students. :)

As a clinical educator, A Doctor and supervisor of technicians in an eyecare setting this book is excellent-I wish it had a video component so I could show them videos of the techniques (maybe it already does) both these authors are great writers and being students of theirs I know they are great people too. Excellent!
