Returning: Episode I

Synopsis

Mira is a mermaid on a mission. It's time to leave the ocean. Mira Belshaw has been at sea for well, she doesn't know how many years. It's hard to keep track of time when you live in the ocean. But after enough time, the salt water triggers the desire to procreate, and her time is up. For weeks, she's been swimming north. Finding a mate is the most important thing to her right now, and to do that, she has to return to the place where she was last human - the coastal city of Saltford. Equipped with everything she needs to lure her perfect mate and produce a strong siren child, all she needs is the opportunity to mingle with humans. But when she meets Nathan MacAuley, the ONE, things start to go sideways. "It was simply impossible to put down!" Reviewer

Customer Reviews

One of the best authors I get the opportunity to read. Always thrilled with her work and her style is crisp and thorough. I would recommend her books to all of my students. Knorr really does her research and because of that and her style, it is a book you do not want to end. Love this work!!

The story has a weird animalistic viewpoint. The author jumps all the romantic stuff and highlights the Institute stuff. When the MC first left the sea, it was because she felt the urge to mate and make babies. Then she meets her "destined one" who somehow has a relationship with a lesbianism girlfriend then her identity is found out by some other supernatural but the author doesn't give a lot of info. Then the threat is gone with some mermaid mojo. She at last kisses her guy. Slam the story ends. Not the best summary and not the best romantic story but somewhat compelling. Either that or I am just sleep deprived.

I should have read this book of the Born Of series first. But it makes sense no matter when you read it. (prequel)

I love it! Very well built world. Engaging characters. Looking forward to more. I got so deep into it I finished it in one go.

I love how the original series has all these little spin off books. This one is the first half of Mira's love story with Nathan (targa's parents). I love how a fire Mage was snuck in there as the antagonist. I can't wait to read more of this series.

I loved Mira's story, knowing how everything came about wow!!!! I couldn't put it down!!! Who knew so many supernatural reside in one town

Second time reading Mira's story and just got part 2. Have read all the books in this series that are out and can't wait for the next

I enjoyed this book very much. I highly recommend it.
