Jerry and Gisela Rohde are the authors of three guidebooks to national and state parks. Gisela, a self-trained naturalist, provides detailed information about local plants and wildlife. Jerry, the former president of the Humboldt County Historical Society, uncovers each area's rich and captivating human history. Together they explore the parks and their surroundings by car, by bicycle, and on foot as they research each book. Larry Eifert has provided many outstanding murals, posters, and other artwork for numerous parks and wildlife refuges.

Some of the content is not totally accurate (I am a ranger at Mount Rainier) but the lively stories more than make up for it!

If your interested in Mt.Rainier,this is the book for you.Written by Jerry and his wife Gisela with illustrations by Larry Eifert, this book is great for if your interested in any aspect of the mountain.The interesting true storys make this an enjoyable book for even casual reading.Jerry Rohde is what is called a Home&Hospital teacher.He teaches children that can not go to school their school assiments.I had to go into this program due to surgery and luckfully ended up with Jerry.He's a great guy and a great historian and I am glad to be one of his students.

Blending human & natural history, this book has opened me to an entirely new way of experiencing Mt. Rainier. I love the trail descriptions, & the auto tours are filled with information. A MUST HAVE for anyone visiting the Mountain!!!
