Viva El Toro (Book On CD) (Spanish Edition)

Synopsis

CD version of ¡Viva el toro!, entire text read aloud by native speakers with space to repeat out loud after each sentence. Read by Veronica Moscoso ¡Viva el toro! by Lisa Ray Turner and Blaine Ray The 4th novel in a series of four easy novels for 2nd- (or 3rd-) year high school students. An American teenage girl goes to Seville to live with a Spanish family and to attend high school. The family takes her to her first bullfight. She is horrified when the bull is killed. Later, on a date, with great misgivings she goes to another bullfight, and something extraordinary happens.

Customer Reviews

Our school district is requiring us to read this little book. I bought the CD to give the students another way of reading the story. I play it while they follow along, I also play it just for them just to listen to and complete listening activities. However, the bland, slow, monotonous voice of the reader is annoying to the students. I was hoping for a reader with more expression and a more natural pace. Also, even though she seems to be a native speaker, she mispronounces some words, for example, the word "aeropuerto". So if you're thinking of shelling out your hard earned money on this CD, you might want to save your cash and record your own voice instead.

I really enjoy playing the books on tape for my classes when we work on the novels, but this particular reader is reading too slowly! It's painfully slow with long pauses. This is a level 2 book, so I wish it were more of a normal reading/speaking speed.

I was hoping that this would be at a faster pace. The pause at the end of each sentence makes a chapter go by so slowly for my students. If I could return it, I would. I will have a native speaker (exchange student) read and record it for me instead. I won't be purchasing any more of the CD versions of the stories.

I purchased the CD and paperback book together. They were exactly what I needed to improve my listening comprehension. An EXCELLENT learning tool!
