June Parsons purchased her first computer, an Apple II+, in 1981 and quickly became fluent in BASIC, dBASE II, Lotus 123, WordStar, and a variety of accounting programs. The next year she opened a successful small computer retail store with Dan Oja that also offered software instruction to children and adults. Dr. Parsons taught at the university level for more than 20 years. She holds a doctorate in Educational Technology and was certified by the ICCP in 1995. Dr. Parsons began writing and creating educational software for Course Technology in 1992. She contributed to the Windows for Business and Illustrated Series and developed the New Perspectives, e-Course, and Practical series. She works via the Internet with a team of highly skilled media specialists and desktop publishers located in various states and provinces. An esteemed professional and respected author, Dan Oja, along with June Parsons, purchased an Apple II+ in 1981 and quickly became fluent in BASIC, dBASE II, Lotus 123, WordStar, and a variety of accounting programs. The next year, he and Dr. Parsons opened a successful small computer retail store that offered software instruction to children and adults. With Dr. Parsons, Mr. Oja began writing and creating educational software for Course Technology in 1992. Together, they contributed to the leading success of the Windows for Business and Illustrated Series. They also developed the New Perspectives, e-Course, and Practical series. Today, Mr. Oja's and Dr. Parson's team of highly skilled media specialists and desktop publishers located in various states and provinces work together via the Internet to deliver exceptional texts. Mr. Patrick Carey received his M.S. in Biostatistics from the University of Wisconsin, where he worked as a researcher designing and analyzing clinical studies. He co-authored his first textbook on using Excel as a statistical tool. Today, Mr. Carey has authored or co-authored more than 20 leading academic and trade texts for the software industry. Ms. Carol DesJardins spent 25 years in the private sector as a programmer, systems analyst and eventually Chief Information Officer. During that time, she honed her skills with Excel as an analysis tool. She transitioned her knowledge to the classroom and has taught several applications and programming courses. Ms. DesJardins co-authored her first textbook on Excel. In addition to writing, she continues to teach at St. Clair County Community College.

Book needed for school. It does the job.

Cheaply made. Not worth the price.

good job

Convenient and easy access for staying on top of my class assignments.

I purchased this book in order to advance my knowledge with excel. I want to learn more advanced topics using excel. The text is easy to follow and starts off with the basics (which I expected and I am perfectly comfortable with). The textbook often refers to spreadsheets needed to perform the exercises described in the book. The publisher DID NOT include access to these spreadsheets with the purchase of their textbook. A serious downside for this purchase has been the customer service from the publisher. I have asked the publisher for help toward obtaining the excel documents three times now (2 emails and one phone call). The phone call lasted 33 minutes and I was on hold for approx. 28 of the 33 minutes. Their website is NOT easy to navigate for help and my first written request for help was punted back to me telling me to contact another department without providing clear direction for how to contact the other department. I FINELY found a phone number to call. I already described the length of the call above. While they were nice on the phone I doubted the sincerity in their promise in getting me the information I required in order to enhance my training using their textbook. I STILL DO NOT have the excel spreadsheets required for the textbook and I am NOT optimistic that the publisher will follow through on their promise to me in providing those documents. I have not heard back from them regarding my request for help and/or the status of my request (if, in fact, they are truly trying to help).

These text books are a rip off. Tons of books on Office around. College text books are a total scam!

I'd give less than one star if it were possible. Paid $160. for this book new, and there is no access code.
